

A History of Mistrust:

Why Minority Communities
Struggle to Trust
Doctors

Fun Fact:

Being LGBTQ+ is normal and okay

Un-funfact:

Homosexuality was classified as a mental disorder that was treated with harmful conversion therapy or even shock therapy until 1973.

POC & LGBTQ+
individuals often face
systemic discrimination
when seeking healthcare.

Black, Indigenous, and Latinx women have been

sterilized
without consent

well into the 20th century.

Tuskegee Experiment (1932-1972):

American healthcare providers lied to and denied Black men treatment for syphilis to study the progression of the disease, even after a widespread cure was developed.

The US Government's
slow response
disproportionately
harmed LGBTQ+ & POC
communities.

Current information
on the subject has been removed from
USA.gov.

Mistrust leads to:

- Late diagnoses
- Poorer mental health
- Non-adherence to necessary treatment
- Higher mortality rates

“Health is more than the absence of disease.
Health is about jobs and
employment, education,
the environment, and all of those things that go into making us healthy.”

AIDS Care in Marginalized Communities

Anyone who is sexually active could be at risk for sexually transmitted diseases or infections.

However, Black & Latinx individuals are 3x more likely to contract HIV. LGBTQ+ individuals are at an even higher risk.

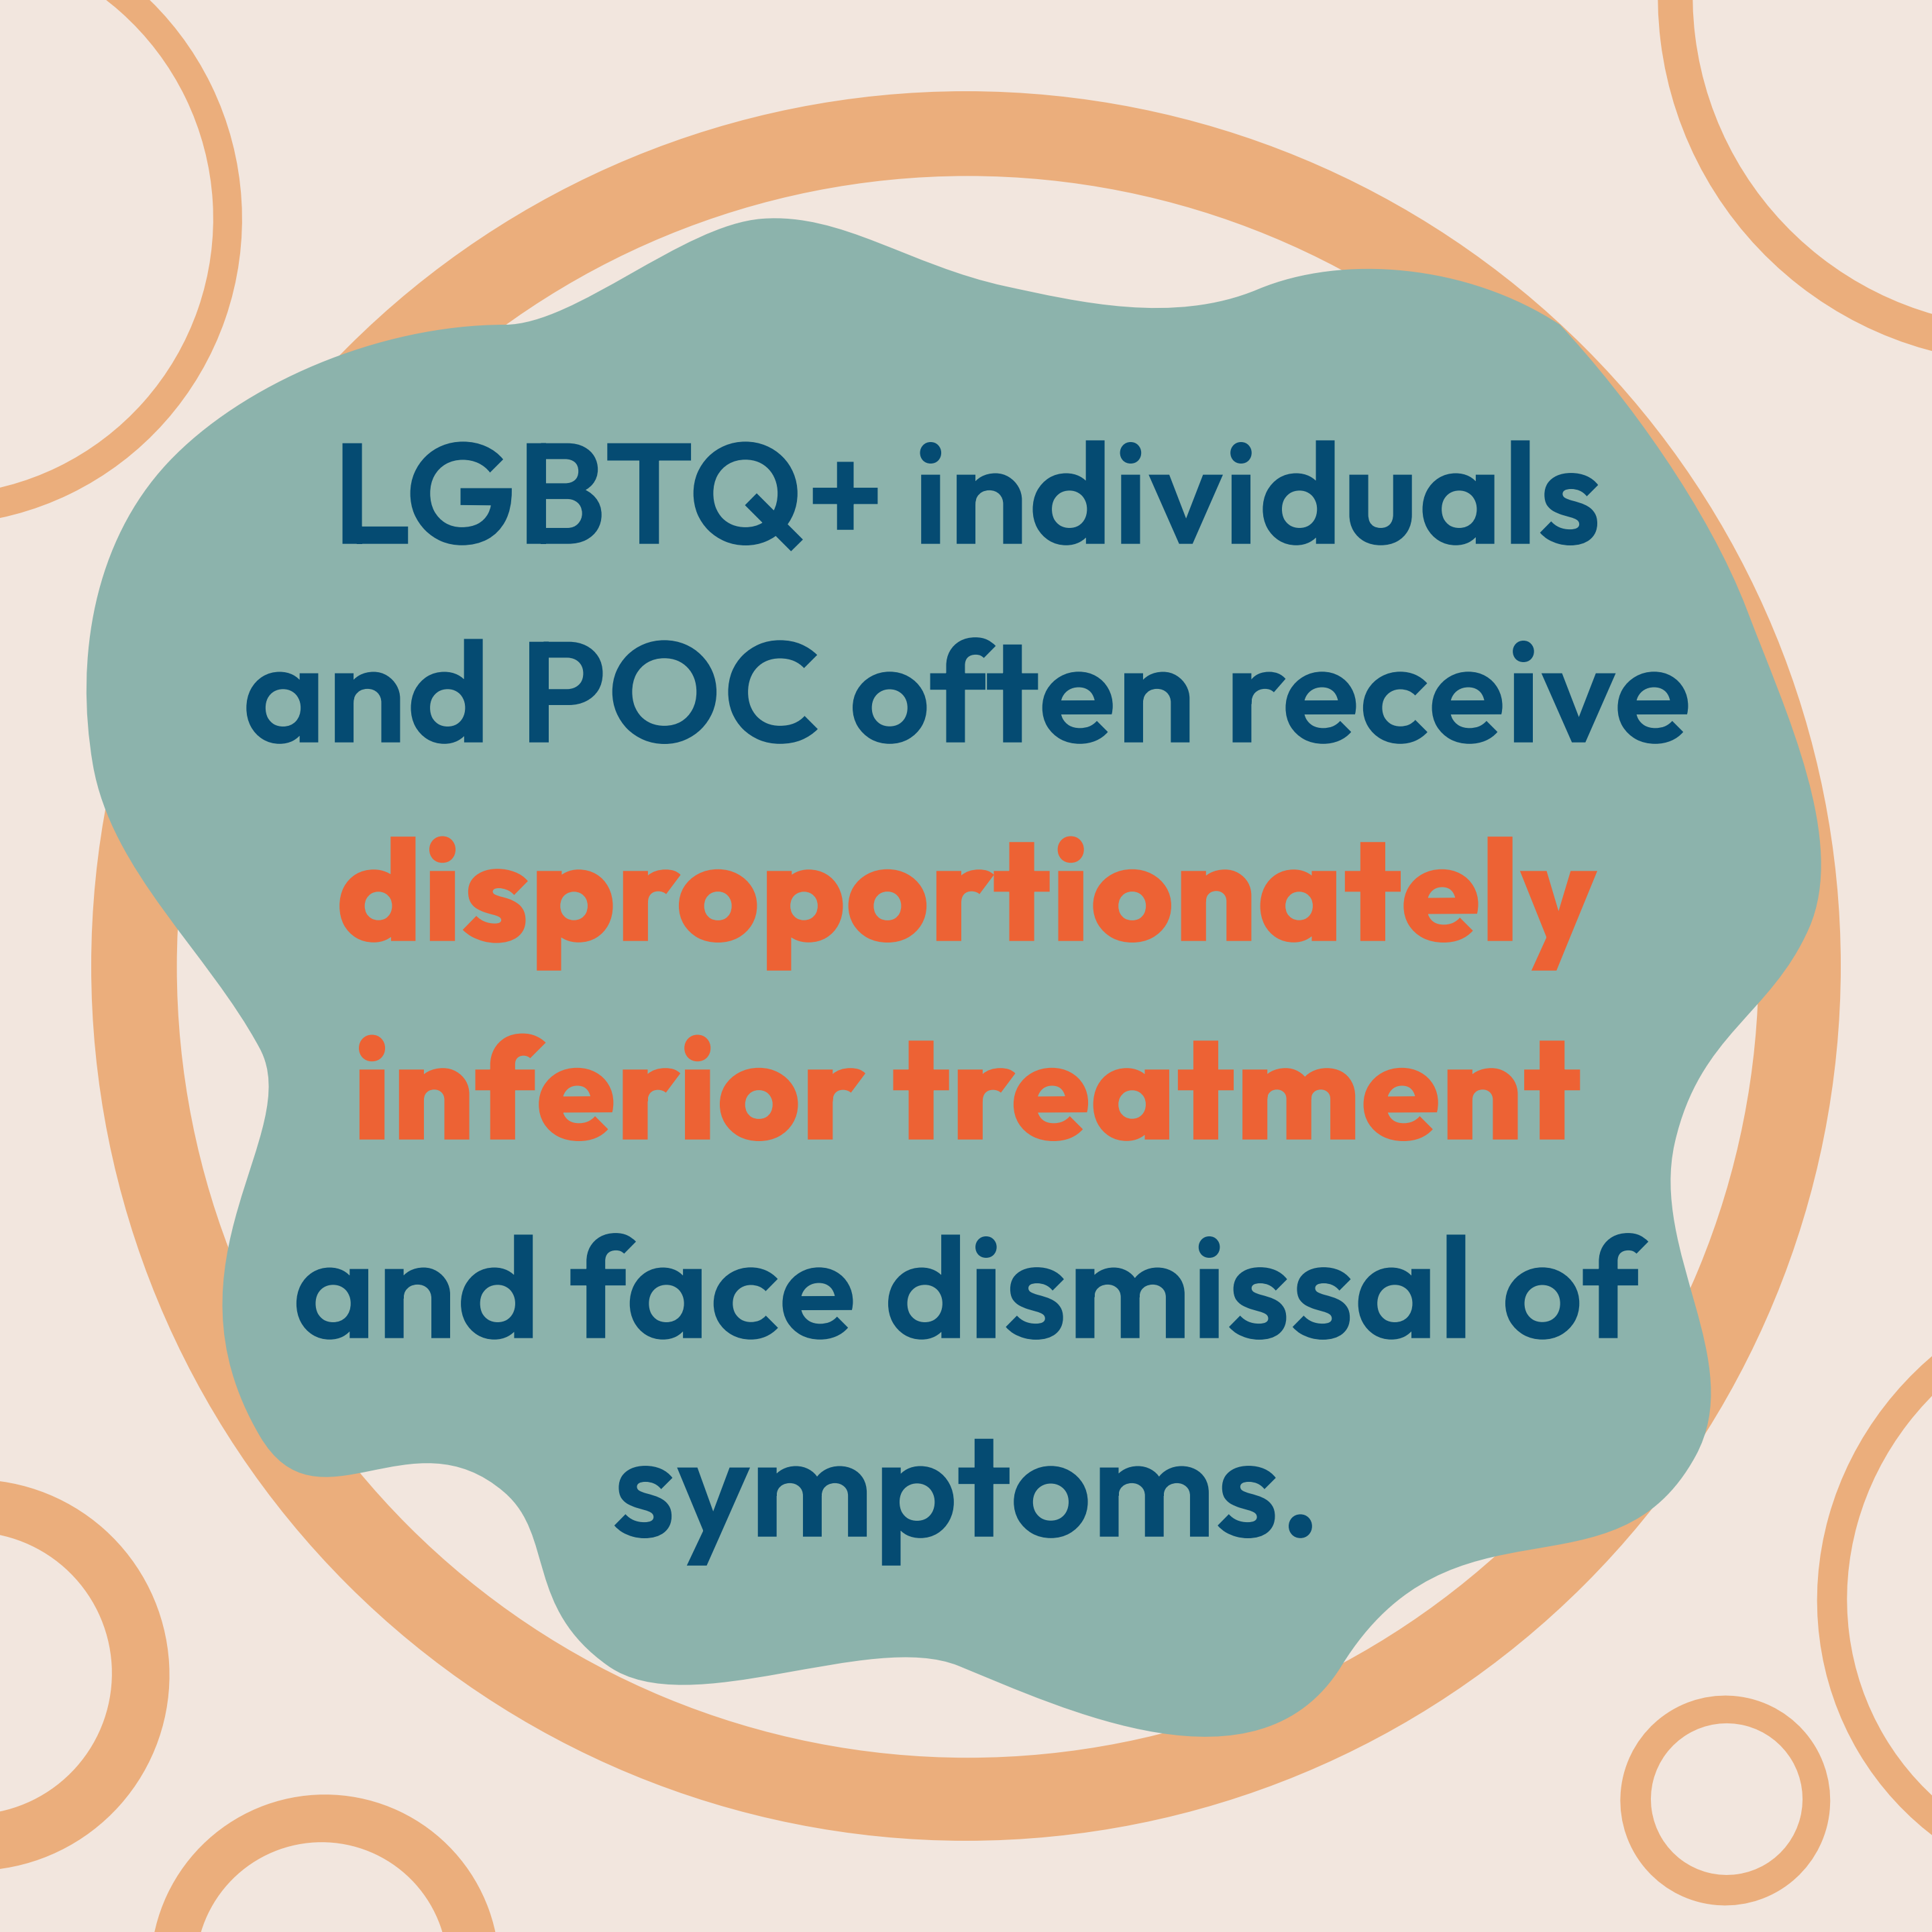

Why?

Systemic barriers
prevent access to life-saving treatments like

PrEP

- High costs
 - Lack of access to healthcare
 - Stigma & discrimination

all contribute to these disparities.

LGBTQ+ individuals and POC often receive
disproportionately
inferior treatment
and face dismissal of symptoms.

The text is centered within a teal-colored, organic, cloud-like shape. This shape is surrounded by a thick, light orange circular border. The background is a light beige color, decorated with several thin, light orange circular lines of varying sizes, some of which are partially cut off by the edges of the frame.

A teal speech bubble with a wavy, irregular shape is centered on a light orange background. The background is decorated with several thin, orange-outlined circles of varying sizes, some of which are partially cut off by the edges of the frame. The text inside the bubble is in a bold, dark blue font.

This discrimination leads to avoidance of crucial treatment.

This directly leads these communities towards later diagnoses & worse
health outcomes.

Rebuilding Trust

Between Marginalized Communities &
Healthcare Providers

Rebuilding trust is critical to closing the gap in medical care
for marginalized
communities.

Okay sounds
cool, but...

How Do
We Start?

Support Community-led Clinics

Clinics run by LGBTQ+ & POC
often provide safe,
affirming care.

Representation Matters

Patients trust providers who reflect
their race, culture, &
experiences.

Cultural Competency is Essential

Training doctors and nurses to understand diverse experiences is key to changing how marginalized communities
receive care.

“We do have the power, if we come together, to make
change.”

-Dr. Karthik Sivashanker

Advocate for Policy Changes

We need policies that require inclusive care and punish discriminatory practices enforced in healthcare systems.

Community support for policy changes is necessary to ensure

inclusive healthcare for all!

Share this to spread awareness so we can secure a future with healthcare that is:

- inclusive
- affordable
- accessible
- culturally competent
